

Black History Month started in 1926 and has been an official American observance since 1976. It's also celebrated in the UK and Canada.

Take February to learn more about this month and the stories it represents. Choose at least 10 of the activities at right to complete (or challenge yourself to do all 28!) in order to earn your GSCSA Black History Month patch.

Many of these prompts offer suggestions for how to complete them, but you can also complete it your own way.
